

Gold Package

As part of our world wide award winning marketing strategy, Fine & Country Northern Lincolnshire are proud to be able to offer you the most comprehensive property marketing designed to animate and accelerate the sale of your property.

Presentation is critical to the successful sale of your home. The Gold package includes a beautiful eight page professionally designed brochure with stunning photography that brings your home to life.

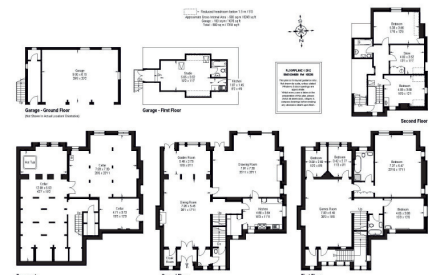

Prospective purchasers require more than room measurements. They want to understand what it is like to live in the home and the surrounding environment.

In addition to a professional photographer taking the photographs and producing the floor plan, a property journalist will interview you for the brochure. Discussion points will include your favourite room, how the house fits in with your life and what you will miss when you move, all enhancing the property lifestyle to prospective purchasers.

Our unique marketing approach means that your property will be displayed at our Head Office in Park Lane London - as well as throughout the region in our five branch network.

Newspaper Advertising includes many local and regional publications, such as The Journal & Lincolnshire Life and the national Refined Magazine ensuring widespread exposure and promotion of your home. Property websites include Onthemarket.com, Rightmove and Fineandcountry.com. Fine and Country also advertises in The Sunday Times & Sunday Telegraph Property Guides

Fine & Country Northern Lincolnshire offers a refreshing approach to selling exclusive homes, combining flair and attention with local expertise.

With a dedicated Sales Director & Sales Co-ordinator you can be assured of the best of service from Fine and Country Northern Lincolnshire.
